Interior Applications

Customers are more discerning about the interiors of their cars than ever before. And, new features are being incorporated into vehicles daily. At Pregis PolyMask, our product solutions team can help match the right protective films for the broad variety of interior surfaces, including: textured & smooth panels, glass, plastic and more.

Exterior Applications

It's the first thing an automotive buyer sees, and it needs to be flawless. Vehicle exteriors require protection from damage and dirt in the plant, in transit, and during the customer buying process. In order to protect high-gloss finishes, painted plastic parts, and more, we manufacture a full line of solutions to fit those needs. From standard temporary protective films, to special UV films with clean removal adhesives to defend all of the detail built into cars, trucks, and other transportation types.
